PARIS, Sept. 15.—A four-day battle which lashed back and forth on the French-German border just south of Luxembourg was revealed officially for the first time today in a French war bulletin which told of new French gains on German soil.

Announcing that Germany's terrific artillery bombardment of the Maginot line in the Saar region continues, French communiqué No. 23 said:

"Operations in the last few days have allowed us to make sure of the possession of the ground in the region northeast of Sierck."

"This ground has been disputed since the German offensive was announced in the communiqué on the evening of Sept. 10."

"Moreover, we have progressed beyond this ground."

Germany And Soviet Are Believed Planning Partition Of Poland

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The reluctant conclusion that war-torn Poland has been marked down for partition between Soviet Russia and Germany was reached by diplomatic circles in Paris today.

Dispatches from Moscow said that the calling up of recruits for the Soviet army and navy had begun, coincident with the assignment of large forces of troops to guard Russia's western front.

Cut Communication With Rumania

At the same time, German troops were reported to have severed all of Poland's communications with Rumania, making Poland all but ripe for carving by the German and Russian swords.

With the severance of Poland from Rumania, the last strategic chapter in the partition has been written. The blast in the Communist party newspaper Pravda in Moscow yesterday against alleged Polish mistreatment of the minorities in White Russia and the Ukraine was interpreted in Paris as clear indication of a Russo-German partition deal. It is feared in Paris that Germany will now destroy the governing classes in all conquered Polish territory, leaving the peasants leaderless.

MOSCOW, Sept. 15.—Soviet Russia called 1,000,000 army and navy reserves to the colors today and rushed huge contingents to her western border in what was officially termed a measure of preparedness "in a world caught by war fever."

MOSCOW, Sept. 15.—Soviet recruits flocked to the colors in droves today as the Russian government called up reserves from numerous classes and mounted a formidable guard of troop reinforcements on the western frontier.

The navy as well as the army was affected by the mobilization decrees, indicating that the U. S. S. R. may be planning early intervention in the conflict.

Moscow newspapers, however, continued to characterize the steps as preparedness measures.

Poland Charges Open Towns Are Being Bombed

International News Service Staff

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The German air force has launched bombardment of open towns in Poland in a campaign "assuming the character of systematic destruction of all built-up areas unconnected with military operations," the Polish government charged today.

Assertion that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler had made good his threat to wreak vengeance upon the civilian population for the activities of snipers in occupied areas was made in an official communique broadcast by the Polish telegraphic agency in Warsaw.

The communique reached London coincident with reports of new advances by the German army toward the Soviet frontier and ominous indications that the Polish lines had crumbled, with disorganized fighting widespread over an extensive area east of the Vistula river.

The Polish forces, hopelessly outnumbered, fell back steadily toward the east. The German high command announced penetration of the small but historically important and strategically located city of Brest-Litovsk, which except for Pinsk, is the last Polish outpost before the swampy lowlands of the Pripyet marshes along the Russo-Polish border.

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—The French offensive against outposts of the Siegfried line on the western frontier was described as a "debacle" in German military circles this afternoon as the high command officially announced a French retreat from Schweig, a few miles west of the river Rhine.

German heavy artillery, hammering day and night at French troops concentrated below the Saarland, has pushed one French column off Reich soil entirely, the statement asserted.

"German artillery forced the French to retreat to the border from Schweig south of Pirmasens." (The French border is nine miles south of Pirmasens.)

Unofficially, German military headquarters insisted that the French offensive was a fiasco, as far as military strategy and consequential gains were concerned.

Heavy Artillery Action

The artillery action of the Siegfried line, on the other hand, it was asserted, "has come up to all expectations."

The heat has brought drought conditions in midwest farming

Delay In Trial Date Is Directed Because Of November Election

THREE CHARGES AGAINST LAWRENCE

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—The trial of State Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence in connection with the Erie gravel case will be postponed until after the November election.

Judge Howard W. Hughes of Washington county, assigned by the state supreme court to preside, said last night that he will issue an order continuing the trial until November 13. The announcement was made after he received a petition filed in behalf of Lawrence by Attorney Oliver K. Eaton.

Originally the trial date had been set for September 25, but Eaton stated that great injustice would be done to Lawrence, who will be in charge of the Democratic campaign in the state this fall, if the trial is set before the election date.

District Attorney Carl B. Shelley flew from Harrisburg yesterday to confer with Judge Hughes and Attorney Eaton.

The three charges against Lawrence are: Conspiracy with John J. Verona in connection with the Erie gravel case, violation of the election laws, and blackmail in connection with alleged extortion of $5,000 from Spurgeon Branch of a Kittanning gravel firm.

improvement in our front lines, in spite of strong enemy reaction, especially by artillery.

Previous French newspaper accounts indicated that German troops, in a counter-drive launched on Monday, gained a foothold for a short time in the Sierck region.

The communiqué on the 10th said: "The enemy has outlined an offensive movement immediately to the east of the Moselle River in the region to the northeast of Sierck."

French forces, however, still concentrated their drive farther south, straightening out lines in the vicinity of Saarbrücken and drawing nearer to the solid fortifications of the German west wall.

Expansion of the communiqué shows that French forces have advanced well into German territory northeast of Sierck, which centered the single area where German counter-attacks carried them temporarily on to French soil.

In the Saarbrücken region the French continued to advance in the face of German artillery shelling and aerial bombardments, according to accounts in Paris.

The French, it was said, were besting the enemy in hand-to-hand fighting on strategic hills around Saarbrücken which, according to last night's communiqué, netted them their first important corral of prisoners.

Examination of the German prisoners, the French say, is yielding information which supplants that gathered by the French in aerial reconnaissance.

France's front lines already are in such a menacing position and French artillery has cut off German communications to the north of Saarbrücken to such an extent that the coal industry in this important town has been lost almost completely to the Reich.

stories in height have collapsed under the constant rain of mammoth shells and exploding aerial bombs.

The population somehow or other has become inured to war's horrors, the correspondent said. Slowly they thread their way through the debris to their destinations, picking paths of safety through streets torn up into gaping holes.

Few of them bother to look any more at the destruction wrought on such a wholesale scale about them.

Cafes remain open, and in these the inhabitants of Warsaw concentrate to discuss the latest news from the front and pick whatever solace they can from the columns of attenuated newspapers.

They are almost all old men and women, these folks who have held out in Warsaw against a constant rain of terror from the skies. The children were all evacuated long ago, and the young and able-bodied are at the front or entrenched in the suburbs, fighting valiantly to stave off repeated thrusts from German advance guards.

Housewives who are worrying about a food shortage should be cheered by a report of the agricultural department at Washington which says that there is an abundant crop of everything in the grain, vegetable and fruit line. If prices go up it will be largely because buyers rush to hoard food. With abundant crops a certainty, the best course to pursue is to buy in the normal way, then there will be no excuse of raising prices.

When the opening of the Perry highway between Dixie Inn and Portersville is celebrated on September 26, Pa. News would suggest that the officials who attend that opening, take a little time off to inspect the dangerous crossing at Harlansburg. Many complaints have been made about this crossing which has been the scene of a number of deaths, and frequent accidents. It would seem that something could be done about it, if nothing more than to install a light. What is needed is a circle, such as have been installed in some sections of the state.

Excuse For Soviet Move
Thus the Russian menace has rendered even more sinister its new European war. The world, which in the last 25 years has seen the upper classes blotted out in Russia, and cut down by thousands in Spain, faces the prospect of seeing them eliminated in Poland.

Great importance it attached to repeated Russian charges that Polish aviators and soldiers have frequently violated the Soviet frontier, presumably affording the Soviets an excuse for armed intervention when they are ready.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 15.—Soviet Russia has definitely decided to attack the Polish army east of the Vistula river as soon as Russian mobilization is completed, the Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Politiken asserted today.

had been destroyed. In one French attack, supporting infantry suffered heavily by the explosion of German mine fields.

It was understood that the German high command has ordered its troops on the western front to "stand fast" behind the west wall, allowing the French to occupy the important no man's land between the Maginot and Siegfried lines.

In this area, fighting remains confined to unimportant skirmishes, the Germans said.

"Let the French and British bleed themselves to death on the west wall," one informant said.

"We have no intention of doing so."

On Polish Front
The Polish front, darting rapidly southward, German troops entered the outskirts of the small, but historically and strategically important city of Brest-Litovsk.

Forces in the city were partly blown up by the advancing Germans, the official communiqué said.

Besides the reported success on the western front and the rapid push against Brest-Litovsk, the military announcement proclaimed:

"1. German troops are advancing beyond the road connecting Lublin and Lemberg (Lwow)."

"2. German troops captured Jablonna, northwest of Warsaw."

"3. The Germans approached Prago, the north-eastern suburb of Warsaw."

"4. Our troops penetrated Brest-Litovsk from the north and north-east."

Brest-Litovsk became an important diplomatic as well as military authorities in Berlin, Germany approved Soviet claims on Poland based on the frontier established by the 1918 pact of Brest-Litovsk.

Headquarters of the German eastern army were in Brest-Litovsk in 1918 when Russia was forced to sign a peace treaty which created a separate Ukrainian republic, but left the Bolshevik borders on the west about where they were under the czars.

(Brest-Litovsk has a population of only 30,000, half of whom are Jews. But its position is important, since it is a fortified city at the confluence of the Bug and Muchowice rivers. It was ravaged by Mongols in 1241, and has been a focal point for wars since then.)

a state of absolute military preparedness now that war has broken out on its frontiers.

"The union must be in a position to await the future with calm and confidence," one editorial states.

The Russian mobilization, it was said, has been carried out with "particular thoroughness and speed". Soviet press attacks against Poland for frontier violations and alleged mistreatment of minorities in the Ukraine and White Russian republics aroused keen interest in diplomatic quarters.

There were no signs, however, of unusual diplomatic activities. Well-informed Soviet sources said that foreign representations against the Soviet attitude were unlikely as Britain, France and Poland "must be aware that any protests are certain to be fruitless under the present circumstances."

Mrs. William Sherman Cotton

Mrs. Anna Cotton, aged 78 years, wife of William Sherman Cotton, died at her home, 715 Carlisle street, at 3 p. m., Thursday after a sudden heart attack.

Mrs. Cotton was born in Wales, March 10, 1861, daughter of Thomas and Mary Murry. She lived in New Castle for the past 40 years, and for some time before that lived in Wheeling, W. Va. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and attended the First church of New Castle when able. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star No. 449.

Her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Walter Conover, of this city, two sons, Joseph T. of Cleveland, O., and Kenneth A. of New Castle, seven grandchildren, one great-grandchild, and one sister, Miss Mary Murry of Alma, O., survive.

Services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Conover, 112 Pine street, with Dr. J. J. McElvaine of the First Presbyterian church in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery. The body has been removed to the Conover residence.

Mrs. Maude Evelyn Kincaid

Mrs. Maude Evelyn Kincaid, aged 56, of the East Brook road, R. D. 5, died Thursday evening, at 10:45, in her home, following a long illness.

She was born in Moravia, Lawrence county, on September 2, 1883, the daughter of Hiram and Nancy Miller Heck. Mrs. Kincaid was a member of the Croton avenue Methodist church, and a member of Rhode's Mission, on the Harlansburg road.

Surviving are one daughter, Ella Julia Kincaid, at home, and one brother, Myron Heck, of New Castle. Mrs. Kincaid was preceded in death by her husband, the late James M. Kincaid, in 1927.

Friends may call at the residence after 10:00 a. m. on Saturday morning. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence, Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Wayne Shellenberger in charge.

Interment will be in Valley View cemetery.

Davis Funeral Sunday

Funeral services for William R. Davis, of 9 Cliff street, who died Wednesday evening, will take place Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Union Baptist church with Rev. C. L. Alexander in charge, assisted by Rev. M. C. Mills, the latter of St. Paul's Baptist church. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. The body now at the Crunkleton funeral home, will be returned to the residence Sunday evening.

Mr. Davis was survived by his wife, Vivian; two sons, William Charles and Bernard Davis, and one stepson, Charles Foster, of this city; one brother, John H. Davis, of Stotesbury, W. Va., and one sister, Mrs. Mary James, of Norfolk, Va.

Funeral of Mr. Flester
Funeral services for the late Charles B. Flester, of 219 East Sheridan avenue, were conducted at the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, in charge.

Many friends of the late well known Pennsylvania railroad employee, were present. The pallbearers were, Jay Rudolph, Jesse Gibson, Clarence Chambers, William Langan, Silas Patterson and W. H. Outcalt. Interment was in Castle View Burial Park.

INDIANA ALUMNI OPENING MEETING

Lawrence County Indiana Alumni Association members opened their fall club season on Thursday evening when they met in the home of Miss Lenore Taylor, at Pulaski. There were 25 members present and the president, Mrs. Edward Everett, was in charge.

An interesting program was presented with Mary Virginia Roberts singing two selections, "I Heard A Forest Praying" and "A Brown Bird Singing." She was accompanied by Kathryn Newbury at the piano, who also played two selections, the First Movement from the "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven and "Rider in the Night." Mrs. S. Olive Hewitt gave a talk on the National Youth Administration and the work being done at their center at Crawford Oakridge.

The hostess was aided in serving tasty refreshments by Evelyn Spencer, Jane Young and Mrs. Beatrice Forbes.

The president named the following committees to serve during the year: program, Kathryn McCreary; Jane Young, Mrs. E. H. Menger, Mrs. Thomas Clark, Mrs. W. J. Conway; social, Mrs. J. H. Buckner, Mrs. Robert Duff, Mrs. Margaret Moore; telephone, Mrs. William Whitedon, Mrs. David Bolland, Mrs. William Falls; publicity, Mrs. Fred R. Cooney.

Next meeting will be the first Thursday of November in the home of Mrs. William Falls, 220 Edgewood avenue.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY AT D. C. LINDLEY HOME

Thursday afternoon a tea was enjoyed by the Medical Auxiliary of Lawrence County Medical society, in the home of Mrs. D. C. Lindley on the New Wilmington road.

The occasion was delightfully informal, the entertainment following a short business discussion. The table was attractively appointed, where tea and dainty refreshments were served.

During the leisure hours, Miss Barbara Schulz, pianist, played "Ragtime" by Liszt as the first feature, and Mrs. James Hugh with Mrs. Paul Welsh as her accompanist, contributed two negro spirituals. Her numbers were "Lord I Want To Be" and "Hard Trials", the latter by Burleigh.

Co-hostesses for the afternoon to Mrs. Lindley included Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. J. R. Cooper, Mrs. Ralph Campbell, Mrs. David Connery and Mrs. Earl Enkin.

DINNER PARTY EVENT IN OHIO FOR F. S. C's

Thursday evening the F. S. C. club membership motored to Youngstown, O., where they enjoyed a chicken dinner party at a popular dining room, the menu being served at a prettily arranged table marking for twelve.

Following, the group went to the home of one of their number, Miss Nettie Holiday, at Campbell, 'O., where the remaining hours were spent socially. Bridge was in play, honor prizes falling to Mary Cunningham. In the guessing contest, Mrs. P. J. Daugherty was the winner. A special feature was a hankie shower honoring Mrs. McDevitt, as an expression of appreciation for courtesies extended from time to time.

Before departing a light lunch was served by Miss Holiday with Miss Winifred O'Connor and Miss Kathryn Rodgers assisting.

On October 4 Mrs. Minnie Devlin, of Campbell, O., will receive the group for their regular session.

ELIZABETH LEWIS IS GUEST SPEAKER

Miss Elizabeth Lewis was guest speaker at the Thursday evening session of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church in the church parlors. She gave an enlightening discussion on the founding of the Bible school at Swansea, Wales, and also she told of her personal opportunity to attend this school.

The meeting was opened with group singing and program aides were Mabel Morrison, Mrs. Charles T. Metzler and Mrs. William Wilson. A social period ensued and tea and light cakes were served. Mrs. Al. Borte, assisted by the Alma Broadhead Circle, had charge. Informal contests were enjoyed as a later medium and the winner was Mrs. W. H. Williams.

On the afternoon of October 5, members will meet in the church.

ROSE OF SHARON CLASS HAS "MUSICAL" PARTY

Mrs. Mildred Doerr welcomed members of the Rose of Sharon class of the Croton Methodist church at her home on Croton avenue, Thursday evening. The regular routine was dispensed with and members enjoyed a delightfully planned "musical" party. Mrs. Lullia Bromley was associate hostess.

Contests, quizzes and discussions on better forms of music of all types were presented in the list of entertainment. Winners were Mrs. Anna Pyle, Mrs. Beulah Creel and Mrs. Charlotte Benninghoff. Tasty refreshments were served.

October 13, members will meet for the next session to be in the form of a "ghost" party.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CURING TOT OF SCREAMING

"Dear Dr. Myers:—In a family of five children we have one girl, aged six years, who seems unhappy most of the time. Her chief fault is screaming. When older brother teases, when she is denied a request, and sometimes for no apparent cause, she screams at the top of her voice.

"To correct the fault we have tried spanking, having her sit still in a chair while others go on with their play, keeping a record and giving a star for times or days when she has refrained, locking her into her room—all to no avail. "From what knowledge I have of psychology, I judge the habit would cease if she obtained no satisfaction from it, yet we have never to my knowledge reversed an order or given her what she wanted when she screamed.

Behaves Well Away From Home.

"Of course we want to overcome the habit as soon as possible. At present the child is visiting her grandparents in another state. They report she is happy and well-behaved. We have hopes that she will forget the habit while she is away.

"How shall we deal with her when she returns?"

My reply to this mother was about as follows: It might be well to have this child carefully checked by a good doctor. Since she seems so happy and well-behaved with the grandparents, there must be something in your family relationships responsible for her screaming.

Perhaps she feels that all the other children have conspired against her; even that her parents do not love her so much as the rest of the children. Just because she screams so often she gets less approval and more disapproval than the rest. Her feeling of jealousy makes her more prone to scream, and her screaming leads to relationship, which causes her to feel more jealous. This vicious circle won't be easy to break up.

Perhaps you and Dad might show her more affection between screams—when she is good. You might also prevail upon the older children to help this child feel more worthwhile by celebrating her successes with her.

When you punish her for screaming, limit the punishment to sitting in a chair, but always make the sentence for a definite time as measured by the clock—say exactly half an hour.

If, however, you could "get away with it" and the neighbors could stand it, a good plan might be to set a time when she would have to scream continuously, for say, fifteen minutes, all being present to witness the "show." Making a child repeat for some while an act that is very undesirable is a good way to make him so hate this act as to avoid it. The difficulty with such a plan is that if the child made up his mind not to do it as commanded, you would be ignominiously defeated.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FRIEND IN NEED

He was a sorry sight to see
Bewildered and bemired!
One would not think his company
Could ever be desired.
A man so shabby and so grim
Is viewed with strange alarms,
And yet this day I welcomed him
With smiles and open arms.

I think I am not overproud
I merely write to say
This man would never be allowed
With child of mine to play
In any other circumstance
These lines I'd not have penned.
I should have scorned him at a glance
Who proved to be my friend.
His hair was just a tangled mass
His face was blowsy red.
He was the sort you meet and pass
With pity, scorn and dread.
And yet that moment, trouble-tried
And helpless as could be,
I hailed his coming to my side
With gratitude and glee.

The day was hot, a tire was flat
And there alone I stayed.
I know not where the tools are at
Nor how a change is made.
Thought I: From such a sorry plight
I shall not soon be free—
And then that fellow here in sight
And changed the tire for me.

Hints On Etiquette

Don't neglect to write a letter just because you "don't know what to say." You would know what to say if you met the person to whom you owe thanks for hospitality or merely a friendly letter so write just as you would speak to them—with sincerity and friendliness.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:10. Sun rises tomorrow 5:41.

A new athletic field at a California high school has been named "Taxpayers' Field." The taxpayers always pay for those places and it's quite a novelty to have something named appropriately.

The successful man takes time out for a peak into the future.

A colored man has been arrested for threatening his wife. He claims it was on account of political differences. No man should ever try to argue politics with his wife and if he gets pinched it serves him right.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

A beautiful young woman entered the outer office and asked if the manager was disengaged. "Well, he's rather busy," said the secretary, trying to be complimentary. "but he's always pleased to see pretty girls like you."

"Is that so?" replied the visitor, in a frozen voice. "Will you please tell him his wife wants to see him."

And the only reason H. Hum and his wife don't get a divorce is because neither one wants the children.

A North Hill man is so polite he always removes his hat when he talks to a lady on the telephone.

LOOKING BACKWARD

When your business cares are heavy,
And your labor troubles great!
When the market's shot to pieces
And the goods you bought came late!
When the past due-bills are coming,
When the Income Tax is due—
When everything is going out
And you're feeling mighty blue!
There's a joy in looking backwards
Through the years all past and gone.

If you feel you've been of service,
And you know of good you've done,
When you think of many friendships
You have made—men staunch and true!
You can then resume your burdens,
For your work holds much for you!

Don't fret if marriage seems dull after the honeymoon ecstasy ends. The ecstasy would bore you, too, if it lasted long enough.

Some years ago we had an elderly bush on our place on the East Side that bore large elderberries. How soon should this invitation be answered?

Answers: (1) No. It is not rude. On the contrary, it is the thing to do. The invitation should state definitely the time of arrival and departure. For instance, "Come on Friday to dinner and go back to the city with Jim on Monday morning." (2) It should be addressed to the wife but should state definitely that both are included. (3) Within 24 hours, if possible.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope.

PUBLIC PROPERTY

"How many people appreciate their proprietary interest in a great many concrete property assets which they do not personally own, such as theatres, churches, schools, auditoriums, parks, stores, hospitals, clinics, street railways and electric light and gas service? We could not use these properties more to our advantage than we do if we owned them all in fee simple.

"We are only casting bread upon the waters when we boost for our city. We do not need to concern ourselves about who holds the title to certain properties. All instrumentalities which minister to the comfort, service and education of our citizens are assets of the city and its people."

When a body is found hanging by the neck in a cellar or attic, a mob cannot very well be blamed for the death.

During the world war some of the chaps who tried to corner some things got a bump that they have not really gotten over yet.

The clothing salesman was working hard on the customer who was a bit uncertain whether he would buy the suit.

"Sir, this coat fits you just like a glove," he told the prospective purchaser.

"Yes, yes," said the man. "I noted that the sleeves covered my hands."

There are always a lot of people who are opposed to the building of new and bigger jails, but they want the old ones kept so they will be comfortable in them.

Good Taste

See U. S. Patent Office

A correspondent asks me how to give the appearance of height to a low-ceilinged room. To accomplish this, one should add as many vertical lines as possible. In the sketch printed above, this effect is given by the straight curtains, without tie backs, reaching from floor to ceiling by the full-height cupboard and the vertical lines of the wallpaper, all of which give the illusion of greater distance between the floor and the ceiling, whose paper should be light to give the impression of spaciousness.

Reader's Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: Is it rude for a hostess to state definitely the specific time during which she wishes a house guest to remain?

Should such an invitation be addressed to both husband and wife? How soon should this invitation be answered?

Answers: (1) No. It is not rude. On the contrary, it is the thing to do. The invitation should state definitely the time of arrival and departure. For instance, "Come on Friday to dinner and go back to the city with Jim on Monday morning." (2) It should be addressed to the wife but should state definitely that both are included. (3) Within 24 hours, if possible.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Office Etiquette.

A Search For Power

WASHINGTON, September 15. IN Administration circles the idea is being spread that Mr. Roosevelt's delay in calling Congress in special session, which he had said he would do immediately upon the outbreak of war, was due to the belief there might be an unfortunate demonstration of "lack of national unity" which would be damaging to our prestige and injuriously affect the situation.

THERE seems no justification for this sort of talk. On the contrary, there is every reason to believe that the great majority of Congress will be in complete accord with the President so far as his general attitude has been disclosed. Certainly, Congress as a whole wants to preserve our neutrality and keep out of war. At the same time sentiment in Congress is nearly a hundred per cent anti-Hitler, strongly in favor of helping England and France in every way possible "short of war." Most members of Congress will react along those lines because they accurately reflect the feeling of their constituents. Particularly is this true of the House, every member of which must come up for re-election in less than a year.

THAT the country, overwhelmingly anti-Hitler at it is, and eager for the triumph of the European democracies, is even more strongly in favor of staying out of the conflict, there is no room for doubt. In the United States today from the President down, there is not a political figure who is not preaching neutrality. Neutrality as the kind of neutrality we really want would be. There is hardly a newspaper which does not insist we must avoid being "drawn into the war." There is not a businessman who does not hope "we will not become involved." And yet the weight of opinion in both parties and in the press favors raising the embargo so as to permit us to ship our cash—arms and munitions—to belligerent nations which will operate to the advantage of England and France and to the disadvantage of Germany. And that is very unusual, indeed.

OF COURSE, there is no such thing as complete unanimity in a heterogeneous nation of one hundred and thirty million people—and there are groups which take opposite positions on all these questions. But, they are a small minority, whose voices and voters will not prevail. The isolationists in the Senate may, as Senator Borah proclaims, make a "bitter fight" against the President's proposal to raise the embargo, but few persons think there is any doubt of its passage. In the light of these facts, the suggestion that, because of its recalcitrance, delay in the extra session call was advisable does not seem logical. Certainly, it does not harmonize with Mr. Roosevelt's former insistence upon the vital importance of prompt revision of the existing Neutrality Act.

IT IS inevitable, too, that the delay in calling Congress and the talk about "recalcitrance" coming from Administration sources should stir a certain amount of resentment in other quarters. For example, there is a disposition among some to insist that the delay is an act of the President's purpose to make this a "one-man show," that he wants to get in position to do what he feels should be done without "Congressional interference"; and that the delay in the extra-session call primarily was to give the Department of Justice full opportunity to complete the examination of the statutes upon which it is now engaged. The purpose of this examination is to ascertain what powers the President has under the laws enacted during previous war periods and still unrepealed.

THIS search, it is understood, is taking the department clear back to the Mexican War and has resulted in the disclosure that under these unrepealed laws, the President's powers, in a time of emergency—even "limited emergency"—are almost dictatorial. For example, it is said that under the National Defense Act, passed in October, 1916, amended and broadened in 1917, the President now has the power, without any action by Congress, to take other industries found unmanageable to governmental "suggestions." He could, it is said, require the steel, the oil or the airplane industry to fix a certain price for their product and, in event of refusal, direct the Government to seize and operate the properties.

THAT any such thing is contemplated is, of course, not believed, but the possibility exists and the delay causes unrest largely because no one outside of the White House circle is being confided in or conferred with by the President. There is a good deal of talk about the retirement of the Corcorans and the Cohens and the bringing into the Administration of conservative business advisers. But there is not the slightest concrete evidence that there has been any real change in the President's advisers or in his methods. On the contrary, as pointed out by various commentators, the proclamation of a "limited emergency" and the announcement of the expansion of the White House staff seem unnecessarily dramatic and (Continued On Page Seven)

Better Balance In War Picture
Communications Are Better Now
Battle Accounts Always Differ

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—In the last war German propaganda didn't stand much chance in competition with the Allies' propaganda. From very early in the game Germany's means of communication with most other countries was cut off by the severing of its cable. Verbal radio broadcasting hadn't been developed then. Morse dispatches were transmitted wirelessly, but the method still was so primitive that these messages were practically unintelligible. Early in the war, as foreign editor for an American news agency, I tried to make sense out of reams of such stuff, addressed from Berlin to New York. It was hopeless. Later, as Uncle Sam's publicity agent in Buenos Aires, South America, I received oodles of wirelesses from the United States, but I couldn't read 'em. However, I did get understandable cables. Not from Germany, though. The Germans were corked up tight, as to friendly propaganda.

Teuton atrocity stories were distributed "ad lib" and the kaiser couldn't answer 'em. I don't say they weren't true, but the kaiser's side couldn't be heard from.

Illustratively:

At the present time the Anglo-French version is that a German submarine sank the Athenia. The Germans deny it. They couldn't have done so in 1914-18.

My conclusion is that we'll get a better balanced picture of this war than we did of the last one. Accounts will conflict, of course, but at least there'll be that conflict.

It may make it easier for neutral countries to stay neutral.

Our Pan-American Republics

The Pan-American Republics are more cohesive than they were in 1914-18. With all due respect for President Wilson, the Latin new world, in that era, regarded his administration as a bullying outfit. Quite a few of our southern neighbors were pro-German because Woodrow Wilson was anti-German and they were anti-Wilson.

I lived there so I know.

I today the Pan-Americans manifestly are overwhelmingly with us on the neutrality issue. Even Argentina's yielding—though it doesn't like us very well, because we're such pronounced agricultural competitors. President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull have wrought the change, mainly as a result of their verbal diplomatic treatment of the southern republic—which just love international super-politicians.

Pan-American Consolidation

This way, by the way, should consolidate Pan-Americanism as never before.

The last one ought to have done it. Before it broke out Latin America did the bulk of its buying in Europe. The war left Europe in no shape to fill further overseas orders, so we grabbed 'em. If we had any sense we'd have kept the market permanently. But our businessmen were so greedy that we antagonized 'em. They switched back to Europe.

Here's our second crack at it.

Who says that foreign war won't have its tragic repercussions in the United States?

Dope to the effect that the overseas conflict will skyrocket the price of Scotch whiskey. Naturally. The Scotch will be diverted from production of whiskey to war munitions.

Corn and our other domestic fluid will be benefited, but that's small consolation to our domestic preferential consumers.

Away Off In China

It's queer that Japan asks—in a very polite way—for English and French marines to get out of China. Merely, the Japs say, to "avoid untoward incidents."

Matsuo Kato, Washington representative of Domei, the mikado's official agency, thus expresses himself in Washington.

What the heck is an "untoward incident"?

TWELVE—A CROWD

There are many alarmists in these United States. Among them are those who have figured out that the population curve is warning; that there has been a distinctive slow-up in births. In fact, these alarmists go so far as to say that by 1950 the population will be decreasing instead of increasing and they point the finger of scorn at the many dividends where there are no children.

While it may be fortunate in that there are no children to such marriages, nevertheless, I can see no reason for alarm. There are still to be found in this country many large families and perhaps the reader knows a great many of them. If the reader happens to be connected in any way with the work of Social Security, he or she probably knows of many families containing an unholy number of children. Yes, there are still large families.

I know of a chap who was the father of twelve children and who was in fairly good circumstances. He decided to take them all to the seaside.

They set off, reached the station, got their tickets and were about to enter the train, when the proud parent was touched on the shoulder by a policeman.

"What have you been doing?" the policeman demanded.

"Me? Why nothing!" stammered the surprised man.

The policeman waved his hand toward the family.

"Then why," he asked, "is this crowd following you?"

STOP CALLING IT A WORLD WAR

ALL Americans, sincerely concerned for peace, should ban the term "World War" as applied to the present conflict in Europe. For it is more than a mild misnomer or an excusable inaccuracy. In these times of tension and emotion, when psychology and the association of ideas may be as potent as armed forces, the careless use of this unwarranted description might work positive harm.

Thus far this is not even a general European war, such as it might be termed if Italy and Russia were participants. In 1914-1918 twenty-three nations declared war. Others entered the fight without formal declarations. There were belligerents in every corner of the globe. The nations of no continent escaped being drawn into the conflict. The total exceptions were so few as to justify calling it a World War.

This is neither "World War No. 2" nor, as some contend, a mere continuation of the hostilities of a score of years ago. While the broad parallel may be found in Germany's aggression, the immediate issue is the invasion of Poland in furtherance of Hitler's far-flung ambitions.

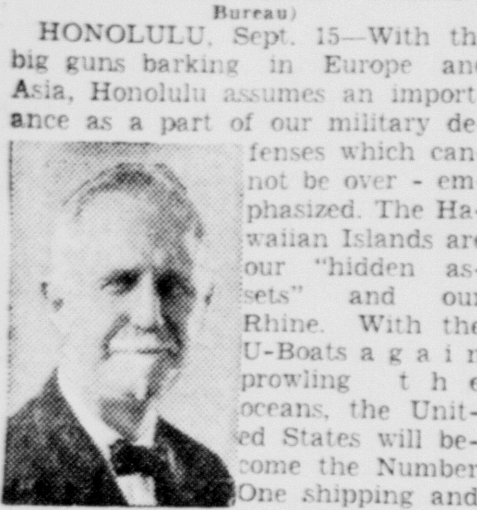

Americans may properly look with suspicion on the origin of the present application of the expression: "the World War." Innocent users might ask themselves whether it springs from sources of undercover propaganda, designed to make Americans believe that it is bound to be a World War in which their participation is inevitable.

Let no one admit that this is or must eventually be a World War, embracing virtually all the nations of the earth, the kind of a war into which some would drag our peace-loving people. It is not, and so far as Americans are determined, it is not going to be a World War. And calling it so will not help the efforts to confine the conflagration to Europe

Babson Says European War Will Mean Boom In Hawaiian Business

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial Bureau)

BABSON

HONOLULU, Sept. 15.—With the big guns barking in Europe and Asia, Honolulu assumes an importance as a part of our military defenses which cannot be over-emphasized. The Hawaiian Islands are our "hidden assets" and our Rhine. With the U-Boats a gain in prowling the oceans, the United States will become the Number One shipping and carrying nation of the world! Now, even more than before, Honolulu becomes a tremendously valuable port as a great clearing and supply base for ocean shipping. Furthermore, the war means more tourists for Hawaii, better prices for her pineapples and sugar, and more spending on her fortifications.

I have traveled this old world East to West, but I have never seen such a beautiful spot as these islands. I have often been asked: "Where would you live if dependent upon raising your own food, making your own clothing, and providing your own shelter?" Up to the present time I have answered: "I really do not know—I believe I would starve almost anywhere." Now, however, I can answer definitely and confidently that I would settle down in the Hawaiian Islands! I am not an expert on Bible history, but during the past few days I have been wondering if the Garden of Eden may not have been located out here.

Land Available For Small Farms

Not only have the Islands a wonderful climate, beautiful scenery, and every natural advantage, but there is yet a large amount of fertile land suitable for small farms. Three weeks ago today, I was in Colorado where our government is spending millions of dollars boring through a mountain in order to bring the farmers a little more water. Certainly, it would be much better to transfer these Colorado people to Hawaii. Moreover, I guarantee that they would be happier out here!

What is the history of this outpost of the United States? The Islands were first opened up by Captain Cook in 1778. For the next century, their chief importance was a popular calling place for Yankee ships in the China trade! In 1890 the population was still only 90,000. It has gradually increased until today it is over 400,000. About one-third of the people are of Japanese, Chinese, and miscellaneous descent, about one-third are of Hawaiian descent, and about one-third are of American, British, and Northern European descent. I am told that about seventy per cent of the inhabitants are male. When I am next asked by women for advice as to where to go to get husbands, I will answer: "To Honolulu!"

Missionaries Did Great Work For some unexplainable reason the Islands are not conducive to large families. The people seem to be successful in growing everything but children. Whether the character of the young people develops as well in this sunny and healthy climate (the temperature is said never to rise above 88 degrees nor drop below 56 degrees) as in cold and rocky New England, is a debatable question. Yet, Hawaii has excellent schools. At one time the people of California sent their children to Honolulu to get a good education. The schools were founded by cultured and conscientious American missionaries, largely from New England. Sad to relate, however, too many of these missionaries were virtuous spinsters!

Unfortunately, the exploiter always follows the missionary. As Bibles were put on sale, they were accompanied by sales of whiskey. The natives were unable to withstand the temptation of liquor. After several attempts to set up a limited monarchy with a constitution and a legislature had failed, a final revolution took place in the "nineties." On July 4, 1894, the Republic of Hawaii was formed with Sanford B. Dole its first president. On July 7, 1898, the Republic of Hawaii was annexed to the United States. The Islands are governed under an Act of Congress passed in 1900. They are now a Territory and have one non-voting delegate in Congress.

Economic Values Growing

You ask me why I stress so strongly the economic significance of this faraway part of the United States. It is true that the only large exports are sugar, pineapples, and various fruits. These latter are largely exported in cans. The Islands, however, grow coffee, rice, bananas, figs, mangoes, nuts, and many other fruits. The total export value of Hawaiian products is about $112,000,000. I was especially impressed with the cattle and sheep which I saw on the ranges. In addition there are large available supplies of sandstone, sulphur, gypsum, salt, and other basic resources. Some day a great chemical industry may be located here.

The outlook for Hawaiian business for the next few months is good. While the cannon boom along the European Rhine, business will boom along the American Rhine. Hawaii's sugar crop has already skyrocketed in value. Her pineapple crop will sell higher. Tourists, turned back from Europe, will flock out here. Honolulu's harbor—the crossroads of the Pacific—will swarm with activity. Expenditures for defense will be stepped up. Remember, the biggest part of our fleet is in the Pacific and the Pearl Harbor naval base is one of the largest in the world.

Our "Magnet Line"

Washington has been wise in spending millions for the military and naval defenses of the Islands, but we must not stop here. Hawaii needs to be defended agriculturally by diversification of crops and products. Furthermore, the Islands are as invaluable to us as protection from the Japanese as the Magnet Line is to France as protection from the Germans. Any of our elected representatives in Washington who fought against the annexation of this "American Rhine" may have been foxy politicians, but they surely were not farsighted statesmen. They were deserving not of honors—but impeachment!

ORDER TAX REFUND

Acting upon request of George Horcher, Cherry street, active volunteer fireman, council on Thursday ordered a refund of personal taxes for 1938 on a $400 assessment.

Horcher's name was not included among volunteer firemen exonerated when council acted on the list in November last year. Director of Safety J. M. Rice explained.

Submarine First Tried To Sink A Battleship 'Way Back In 1775

And It Was In New York Harbor, Against The British During The Civil War; Dutchman, Dr. Drebel, Universally Credited, However, With Inventing The U-Boat

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A submarine's first attempt to sink a warship, which took place in New York harbor in 1775, was pretty comical.

The submarine, devised by a Yale student named David Bushnell, was a wooden affair not much bigger than a barrel and held only one man, who propelled it by cranking furiously on a couple of levers. The craft was named "Turtle" because it looked like a turtle.

The British were trying to blockade New York, and one Ezra Lee was commissioned to polish off, by means of the Turtle, the warship Eagle, at anchor near Sandy Hook. Bushnell didn't go, because he said, he wasn't feeling well.

In the dark of night, Lee buttoned himself into the Turtle submerged and cranked out to the warship. The plan of attack was to screw a time bomb to the hull of the Eagle and scurry away before it went off.

But when Lee tried to do this, he made the belated discovery that the warship was covered with well-nigh impenetrable copper sheathing. So, after lurking around, baffled, in the water for more than 12 hours, Lee withdrew.

Disappointed he determined to set the bomb off anyway, so he released it in the water a short distance from the Eagle. Presently the bomb exploded.

It sent up a high geyser of water and did absolutely no damage to the warship except, a contemporary historian noted, to give those on board "a mighty scare."

Bushnell, the Yale student, did not invent the submarine; that is universally credited to a Dutchman, Dr. Cornelius V. Drebel, who worked for King James of England in the navy.

Van Drebel's brain child, launched about 1620, was a wooden gadget covered with leather and propelled by oars. On one occasion, it stayed under water in the Thames river for more than 12 hours, and apparently that's about all it ever did.

Twenty years after the doughty Ezra Lee, Robert Fulton, the steamboat man, produced a submarine and sold Napoleon on the idea, but when it was unavailing against the British fleet, Napoleon dismissed Fulton as a fool.

So Fulton went over to the other side and resold the idea to Prime Minister William Pitt, but by the time they got any submarines operating, Lord Nelson already had cleaned up the French fleet.

A German submarine launched at Kiel in 1849 had rubber-glove extensions on the side through which to maneuver explosives but the first really armed sub, cigar-shaped and 40 feet long, was built on Lake Michigan in 1851 by a man known to history only as "Mr. Phillips."

Mr. Phillips used to take his wife and children down in it for 12 hours at a time and bang away with a six-inch gun at the hanks of derelicts.

There were about half a dozen submarines in the Civil War, built by the Confederates at Charleston, S. C., which were hand-propelled, and damaged half a dozen blockading warships with torpedoes attached to extension arms.

Twenty years later, John Holland and Simon Lake began designing motorized submarines, and their work was the basis of modern craft. Lake, now 73, has spent the last few years trying to recover sunken treasure—with pumps, not submarines.

Things you maybe never knew before about submarines...

Submarine engineers didn't get the idea of using a periscope until 1902; up to then, subs were navigated from glass-bound conning towers. There are at least six distinct types of subs: Fleet members, capable of doing 24 knots or more; Cruisers, capable of 18,000-mile trips; mine layers, heavily-armed "monitors" that can sink an unarmored ship with gunfire; subs designed exclusively to destroy other subs, and commercial subs, built with little success, to carry freight under blockades.

Most submarines run on the surface by Diesel engines and under water by electricity from batteries charged by the engines. They submerge by taking water into ballast tanks and rising by expelling it with compressed air. The British have at least one submarine that carries a seaplane inside of it.

Red Cross Aiding To Locate People In War Territory

Have Made Arrangements With Countries At War To Secure Information

The Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, has received requests from Lawrence county people to assist in locating relatives in the stricken areas of Europe.

It is interesting to note the arrangements the Red Cross has already made with the secretary of state of the United States government. All requests for information pertaining to relatives abroad may be taken up with the chapter office and information will be then transmitted to the secretary of state who will in turn send it on to the International Red Cross office where it will be transferred to the local organization nearest the family in question. It is hoped that this service will not need to be used but if any member of the chapter jurisdiction is in doubt of the whereabouts of their relatives if they will get in touch with the chapter office everything within the Red Cross power will be done to secure information to relieve the mental suffering.

Accept Funds For War Sufferers In European Countries

Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter Is Accepting Money For Use Abroad

At the present time the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, has not been asked to make a drive for war funds but if anyone living in the jurisdiction of the chapter desires to contribute to the relief of those in the conflict they may send their contributions to the local chapter and may even specify how they desire this money to be used and in what country.

It is interesting to note that the National Red Cross, without a fund raising campaign, has sent $50,000 to the Polish Red Cross for securing quantities of hospital tents, blankets, drugs and other necessary needs for those suffering from the war. All contributions received by the Lawrence County Chapter will be promptly transmitted to the national organization for use overseas.

Authorize Rice To Purchase Hose

Because rubber prices are expected to increase, council on Thursday favored the recommendation of Safety Director J. M. Rice and authorized him to buy 400 feet of new fire hose at 1939 prices. The hose will cost about $50. Rice explained. The city annually purchases several hundred feet of new hose.

MONTH OLD BABE TO ENTER COLLEGE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—Mary Catherine, aged just one month, will enter Seton Hill Academy with the rest of the college girls when school reopens, it was announced by officials of the Rosalia Maternity hospital.

Mary Catherine will be a "practice baby" for six home economic students, who will take turns caring for the tiny tot to learn proper baby care. Under the watchful eyes of an instructor the girls will weigh, bathe and dress Mary Catherine as a part of their course. Later, each "mother" will have complete days when the baby will be entirely in her care.

Results Of Local Option Vote Taken In Mercer County

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Sept. 15—Complete returns on local option voting in Mercer county's seven boroughs and two townships where referenda were held show strength of the "dry" forces in rural townships and communities while "wet" supporters were victorious in the thickly-populated sections. The "wets" scored victories in Mercer, Stoneboro, Hempfield, Hickory, Springfield, Pine and West Salem, where voting was held on both beer and liquor. In West Middlesex and Jefferson township where referenda were held on the sale of liquor, the "wets" scored wins, but were defeated in Liberty, Shenango and Fairview townships, where the "dry" forces were strong. Findley and Jackson townships voted for the sale of beer while Lackawanna and Greene townships voted against sale of the beverage. Sandy Lake, Sandy Lake township, French Creek, New Vernon, New Lebanon, Deer Creek, Mill Creek and East Lackawanna voted against the sale of both malt beverages and liquor. Perry township and Jackson Center borough approved the sale of beer but voted "no" on the sale of liquor.

OAKWOOD GARDEN CLUB PLANS OCTOBER DINNER

Oakwood Garden club formed plans at their Thursday evening session for their second annual dinner party to take place October 12. Hostesses will be Mrs. Julian Miller, Mrs. Ralph Raney and Miss Elizabeth Taylor.

Mrs. Fred W. Sontum was hostess at her home on Miller avenue, and at this time the club was afforded an opportunity to inspect the local gardens of the home before dusk. Miss Margaret Lowery was joint hostess. Mabel Pearl Atkinson, president, gave a clever greeting discussion.

Mrs. Ralph Hay gave an excellent paper on "Planning Spring Planting" followed by a paper on "September Garden Suggestions" by Mrs. Harry Hasely. Reports of the Youngstown Garden Forum's recent meeting were presented by Mrs. Fred Sontum, Mrs. Bert Coates, Sr., and Mrs. Sam McBride. Plans were formed for delegates to attend the flower show in Youngstown, O., today. Roll call was answered with each member asking a garden question. A special feature was an exchange of plants brought by members. In a drawing contest the hostess won an unusual plant presented by Mrs. F. W. Moorehead. The meeting was closed with the serving of refreshments.

Jolly Twelve Club
Jolly Twelve club members were received Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Edward Burdette on East Washington street, for a social time, the hours being occupied with contests. Those winning prizes were Mrs. Charles Riney and Mrs. Joseph Perkins.

Lunch was served at a later period, the hostess being aided by Mrs. L. W. Houk. Miss Laney Te-well was a special guest.

In two weeks Mrs. L. W. Houk, of Raymond street, will be hostess.

Y. O. B. Club
Y. O. B. club members motored to Youngstown, O., to the home of Mrs. Raymond Stevens for their meeting Wednesday. Cards and contests were featured and the hostess, aided by Mrs. William Lawton, Mrs. David Taylor and Mrs. Edward Pritchard, served a tasty luncheon.

Winners for high scores were Mrs. Reed Price and Mrs. George Keeling. Mrs. William Lawton will entertain at her home on Walnut street, September 27.

Friendship Club
Mrs. Lena Cassella, of South Mill street, entertained the Friendship club on Wednesday evening. The card prize was won by Rose Ippolito. A tasty lunch was a later feature. On September 28 Mrs. William Paradise, of Meyer avenue, will entertain.

L. A. B. MEMBERS HOLD ELECTION

Mrs. William Ellgass, of North Jefferson street, was hostess to members of the L. A. B. club Thursday evening.

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. John Sweet; vice president, Mrs. Anna McClimans; secretary, Mrs. John Shaffer; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Covert; press-reporter, Mrs. John Sweet.

Cards and bingo were enjoyed with Mrs. John Sweet and Mrs. Frank Dute winning the prizes.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Mac Wade and Miss Helen Delin.

At a late hour guests were served lunch. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. M. Wade and Miss Helen Delin.

In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Covert of East Washington street.

Buono Tempo Club

Associates of the Buono Tempo club gathered in the home of Mrs. Joseph Orrico, East Lutton street, Thursday evening.

Prizes for high scores in cards were won by Mrs. Guy Natale and Mrs. Gabriel Armundo, the latter also received an anniversary wedding gift. The club token was won by Mrs. Thomas Magliery.

A full course chicken dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by Frances Chipraro and Virginia Fusco, the special guests. Other guests included Mrs. Domenick Vitale, Mrs. Anthony Mazzocco and Mrs. Jim Julian. All received hostess gifts.

On September 26 the club will celebrate their second anniversary with a dinner-theatre party. Mrs. Thomas Magliery will be hostess on October 6 in her home on East Lutton street.

Co-Hostesses To Class

Mrs. William Phillips and Mrs. Mary Jones were co-hostesses to members of the Willing Workers class of the Emanuel Baptist church at their home on Reynolds street, Thursday evening.

A short business meeting took place with Mrs. Mary Jones presiding.

The class prize was won by Mrs. Bert Morgan.

At a late hour lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. George Marshall and Mrs. Sam Lewis.

On Tuesday, October 3, the class will meet at the church.

P. F. F. Club

Mrs. Sam Carr entertained the P. F. F. club at the Carr cottage along the Big Neshannock Thursday evening. Cards were enjoyed and the hostess served tasty refreshments.

Winners were Mrs. E. D. Fee, Mrs. Joseph Kruegar and Mrs. Arline Patterson. Mrs. Joseph Doone won the galloper's award. Mrs. Louis Kruegar, whose birthday anniversary is an event of today, was presented with a lovely gift from the hostess.

September 28 members will meet with Mrs. Joseph Kruegar, Bluff street.

Small Portion Of Wall Project Yet To Be Finished

Only Little Over One Hundred Foot Of Wall To Finish—Other Work Planned

Just a little over one hundred foot of the stone retaining wall being built at the city disposal plant yet remains undone. This work is going along rapidly by WPA workmen and within a short time the project should be completed.

Stone for the remaining stretch to the Willow Grove road has already been delivered to the project and is ready to be put in place by the workmen. Purpose of this new wall is to protect the disposal plant from floods in times of high water. It was learned today that other extensive repairs at the disposal plant are planned when this wall project is completed. New drying beds will be built, provided with a shelter to aid in the operation of the plant. Other repairs and improvements will be included in the new project.

S. C. W. CLASS HAS

MEETING THURSDAY
Mrs. G. H. Scheidemantle, West Madison avenue, was hostess to members of the S. C. W. Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church Thursday evening. This was the first meeting of the class since June. Plans were made for a program to be held in the church at a later date. There were 19 ladies present and a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Scheidemantle, aided by Mrs. A. A. Maud and Mrs. F. R. Holliday.

Next meeting will be in the form of a Halloween party in October.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

South Liberty street between Montgomery avenue and the South Liberty street playground was scraped recently and is still in first class condition. This portion of the street usually gets in bad condition following rains.

Along the West Pittsburg road the shoulders are quite rough. In some places the shoulders are several inches below the surface of the road, making driving difficult should one happen to get off to one side.

Work is still going ahead at the new electrical sub-station on North Cedar street. One section of this new plant is now in operation, supplying electric current to the city and district.

Large quantities of dirt have been removed from the hillside along North Cedar street, near the huge city ash pile. Some of the dirt was used to repair the ball field at the corner of Mahoning avenue and North Cedar street.

AUXILIARY HAS

MEETING THURSDAY
Fall sessions for members of the Grand International Auxiliary to Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, were commenced Thursday with a meeting in the American Legion Home, North Jefferson street.

Plans were made by the group to send representatives to a union meeting in Pittsburgh on Wednesday, September 27. Next meeting of the auxiliary will be held on Thursday afternoon, September 28.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Jack Solomon, North Liberty street, was a visitor in Pittsburgh Thursday. Emily Turner, Clayton street, will leave on Tuesday for Ohio-Wesleyan University. Kenneth Farver, West Clayton street, plans to leave Sunday for Penn State. Mrs. Charles W. Thompson, of Eighth street, is confined to her home by illness. Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, Newell avenue, are in Princeton, N. J., where their son, Daniel, is making plans to enter Princeton University.

Armistice Day Plans Outlined

T. John Stoner Is Elected
Chairman Of Celebration
For November 11

DETAILS ARE BEING PLANNED

Plans for the observance of Armistice Day here on November 11 are beginning to shape up, and the committee chairman and officers who were elected and appointed at a meeting earlier in the weeks are working hard for the success of the affair.

T. John Stoner, who is adjutant of Neshannock Post No. 315, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was named general chairman, and those who will assist him are the following: first vice chairman, Edward Haines; second vice chairman, L. J. Lewis; secretary, G. C. Grove; assistant secretary, S. Phil Kubinski; treasurer, Fred Nicklin; chairman of parade committee, Frank Sargent; chairman of finance committee, Edward Pritchard and Albert Shook; publicity, Charles E. Allen.

The next meeting will take place on Monday evening, September 25, when the balance of the committees will be named and further details of the plan for the celebration will be furthered. Any civic or fraternal organization which was not represented at the meeting this week is asked to join in the plans for the celebration and to send representatives to the meeting.

AROUND CITY HALL

Cruiser car police have an assortment of duties to perform, all of which have a bearing on the good peace of the city. For instance, whenever one breaks the law and someone sees him a telephone call is dispatched to police headquarters. A sergeant, radioing instructions to a cruiser car officers and they usually apprehend the offender. When a resident leaves the city on a vacation and his home is unoccupied, cruiser police visit the residence several times each night to prevent burglary. If a mad dog is reported police in cruisers are sent to kill the dog. The cruiser cars also are used as ambulances in case time is important and many persons, feeble by years, are transported to their homes when found in distress. When a holdup, or more serious crimes occur, information is radioed all cars and while one car proceeds to the scene of the crime the other cars dart for roads leaving the city and possible hiding places of crooks. The cars also are used to keep traffic flowing at a proper rate and special attention is given to school and church zones.

Cascade Park force has been skeletonized, only three now being on the payroll. They consist of the park manager, night watchman and the gardener. During the operating season, 19 are on the payroll. According to Manager C. C. Coulthard, no day passes without some people holding a dinner of some kind in the grove. So long as the weather proves suitable, facilities for preparing dinners will be maintained, he stated.

AN IMPORTANT STATEMENT FROM A&P ABOUT WAR DAYS AND FOOD PRICES

A&P's Policy will remain unchanged. That Policy is simply this: A&P will provide good food at lowest prices possible. As always, we will operate our stores and markets with the interest of our customers principally in mind. We know the hardships that increased food prices can bring to countless families, therefore, our prices will be adjusted only to the extent that it is absolutely necessary. If, owing to the laws of supply and demand, the price of food we purchase moves upward, obviously we will have to pay the higher cost and change retail prices accordingly. You have our assurance however, that A&P's margin of profit will continue to be very low and normal in every respect. Thus we pledge to you and our six million loyal customers the best efforts of our wide-spread organization to keep our prices as low as sound business judgment will permit. We repeat—A&P's Policy will be unchanged—GOOD FOOD AT LOWEST PRICES POSSIBLE.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

DR. DAFOE PLACES FAITH IN HOSPITALIZATION

Yesterday we talked of the disadvantages of hospitals. But believe me, the advantages greatly outweigh the other side. For instance, a specialist from a large city hospital for children once told me that if the quintuplets had been born in such an institution they probably would have died. He said that this was because he thought they would have been handled too much by the doctors in their efforts to do things for them.

Nevertheless, when anything serious seems to be wrong with the children, I summon help from the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children. Dr. Alan Brown, chief of staff, drives up any time I ask him to hold a consultation. Last fall when the children's tonsils were removed so successfully it was the members of the staff of this same hospital, under the supervision of Dr. Brown, who did the job.

As we explained yesterday, perhaps the greatest fear in hospitals is that a child with an infectious disease, just ready to break out, will be admitted for some other ailment and will spread the disease to other children. I know this sounds pretty serious, but that very thing could happen right in your own home. So if it happens to your child in the hospital, don't blame the nurses and the doctors any more than if the child had been kept home and someone communicated a disease to him, either directly or through the nurse in attendance.

Children's hospitals are usually too small for the work that has to be done in them. Each ward is filled with too many babies because, as a rule, the hospital is poor and can't afford larger buildings. This all has bearing on the fact that diseases are occasionally transmitted from one child to another.

In most children's hospitals, there is research going on all the time. The doctors you see spend only part of their time looking after babies; the rest of the time they are working on some problem of medicine, usually without pay. When they solve these problems, then your child and mine, the child of the millionaire, the child of the slums receive the benefit of it.

Modern methods of treating childhood diseases and modern ways of feeding babies have largely developed from this research by hospital doctors. In the past hundred years the infant death rate has dropped to about one-tenth of what it was because of the work these hospitals have done.

Treatment a child receives in one of our modern institutions is as remarkable as it is excellent. Laboratory tests can be called in at a moment's notice in order to check a difficult diagnosis. Delay and guesswork are eliminated, and your child reaps the benefit. In such hospitals modern X-ray equipment can localize abnormalities. Immediately so they can be treated more adequately. Bacteria causing sickness can be identified by cultures and serums which are at hand for instant use.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Individuals differ greatly in their sensitivity to pain.

Many old people have comparative insensitiveness to pain. This often enables an internal cancer to grow undisturbed. Some patients do not feel a peptic ulcer.

A man had several teeth extracted without an anesthetic. He said he had felt no discomfort.

He later went to his doctor with some vague complaint. Operation disclosed a perforated duodenal ulcer.

A normal man would have suffered excruciating pain.

But some women feel pain and complain a great deal.

Tales to their doctors must be somewhat discounted.

Pain is defense mechanism—and most people suffer from it.

Ran First Street Cars Operated Here

Gaston And Barrett Tell Of First Electric Railway
Lines Here

Charles G. Gaston, of 466 Croton avenue, and Whitney Barrett, of 707 Carlisle street, state that they run the first street cars in New Castle in 1892 as motormen, from corner Mill and Washington streets to East Long avenue, and from the Union Station on East Washington street, to Greenwood avenue, on West Washington street. These points were the extent of the street railway system in this city at that time.

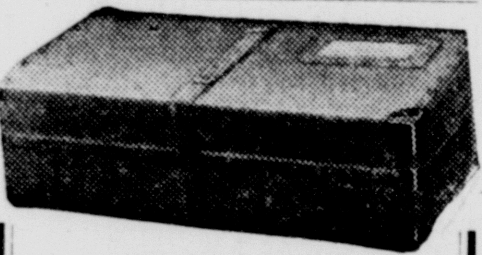

The car barns and power house were then located on South Mill street on the present site of the Cudahy Packing Company. There were three street cars. Numbers 1 and 2 run on the South Mill street line, and No. 3 on Washington street. No. 1 and 2 were made by the General Electric Company and were supplied with a control brake. No. 3 by the Westinghouse Company, which had a lever brake. There was a 15-minute schedule for the run from Washington street to Long avenue.

Distorted Idea Of Humor Holds Up Election Reports

Britons can't understand the American brand of humor and after every primary election we become thoroughly British insofar as seeing the humor of the electorate is concerned.

Not that there is anything funny in nominating or defeating a candidate. It's just the idea of writing names in blank spaces that appeals to us as being slightly tarnished at the edges.

Every primary election the returns are delayed and the work of the election boards nearly doubled by would-be humorists, or perhaps unthinking voters who cast ballots for people who never had an idea of running and don't know anything about it.

For example in your own precinct. There were no filed candidates for the office of judge of election or inspector of election. What did you do? Ascertain who the present officers were or just write down the first name that came to your mind? Possibly you voted for yourself.

After all it will be something to tell your grandchildren that in 1939 you got some consideration for judge, neglecting, of course to tell them it was judge of election and that you voted for yourself.

Or perhaps you voted for your wife, your mother-in-law, or that blonde who works in the grocery store on the next corner. If you happen to be historically minded you may have voted for Lucretia Borgia, Vasco de Gama, Benedict Arnold or William Tell. It was all for a laugh but at 3 o'clock the next morning the election board would cheerfully have boiled you in oil along with the other pseudo humorists who clutter up the ballot with phony names.

It might be a good idea if the county chairman of the various political parties would see to it that his party has candidates for every office, no matter how small, even county surveyor, whose duties have been lost in antiquity. Either that or the voters should begin to forget their adolescence.

William Jenkins Funeral Saturday

Body Of Former Resident, Killed In Crash At Warren, O., Is Brought Here

Killed near his home outside of Warren, O., on the Warren-Youngstown road, when his car was struck by another as he was pulling into the driveway on his way home from work, the body of William A. Jenkins has been brought to New Castle for funeral services and burial.

The family will receive friends tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock in the Joe B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where services are to be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. Rees T. Williams of the First Congregational church, officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery. Friends are asked to kindly omit flowers.

Mr. Jenkins, a resident of New Castle until 10 years ago, died instantly in the accident which occurred at 11:15 Wednesday night. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Mary Moore, Helen Jenkins and Mrs. Margaret Ward; three grandchildren, his mother, Mrs. Rachel Jenkins; four sisters, Mrs. Rachel Reynolds, Mrs. Blodwen Otto, Mrs. Mae Strausbaugh and Mrs. Nellie Cromie, all of New Castle, and one brother, Brinley Jenkins, of Sandy Lake.

The deceased was 56 years of age. He was born in South Wales June 6, 1883, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins.

PASTOR GIVEN CALL BY NEW GALILEE CHURCH

NEW GALILEE, Pa., Sept. 15.—The New Galilee Presbyterian church, at a congregational meeting last night, extended a unanimous call to the Rev. Jacob V. Kooz of Emmenton.

The pulpit has been vacant since Rev. Richard Davis, who had been serving as stated supply, was named to the pastorate of the Rural Valley church. Rev. Herbert Main had formerly been pastor of the New Galilee congregation.

Y. M. C. A. Directors Name Butler Again

Board Re-elects Officers; Meermans Sees 'Busy Season Ahead'

John A. Butler will again head the board of directors of the New Castle Young Men's Christian Association during the coming year.

Re-elected with Butler for 1939-40 were all the past year's officers, including Dr. E. F. Henderson, vice president; Carl E. Paisley, secretary, and Fred C. Wolford, treasurer.

General Secretary Robert L. Meermans, announcing the election result, said today that the association plans a busy program for the fall and winter.

Missionary Group Convening In East

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas B. Shearer of the Central Christian church, Rev. and Mrs. Milton E. Shearer of the Madison Avenue Christian church and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Frush of Newark, O., will attend the Pennsylvania Christian Missionary society convention in Philadelphia Monday to Wednesday.

Rev. Thomas B. Shearer is a member of the board of the society and Mrs. Shearer a member of the board of Women's Missionary society. The boards will have meetings Monday morning, prior to the opening of the convention proper.

"That's no spinach THAT'S NBC GRAHAM CRACKERS"

5 "Musts" to remember about a between-meal food for children

1. It must taste good. Youngsters consider NBC Graham a real treat. They love their tempting crunchiness.
2. It must digest easily. Mothers appreciate the fact that NBC Graham won't upset small stomachs.
3. It must be nourishing. NBC Graham has good food value. Help supply the energy active children need.
4. It must be of high quality. The greatest baking company in America stands behind NBC Graham. That is why it is so important to look for the NBC Seal when you buy Graham's.
5. It must be easy to get and serve. NBC Graham are the handiest between-meal food you ever knew. Let the children help themselves. The grown-ups will enjoy NBC Graham's too! Plain, spread with butter or jam, or crumbled in milk.

Put a big tablespoonful of applesauce between two NBC Graham Crackers. Top with well-sweetened whipped cream. Mm! It's luscious!

Crossed Wires Cause Interruption Of Electric Service

An interruption to electric service in the North Hill and Wilmington road districts late yesterday afternoon presented a difficult puzzle to the Pennsylvania Power Company line department for a short time.

At about 5 o'clock the Pulaski road sub-station, located near the city limits at the New Wilmington road, suddenly went dead and reports came in of the interruption from many scattered locations in the North Hill section. Linemen were promptly dispatched to the sub-station and the circuits emanating from the sub-station "sectionalized."

This was done by opening the switches on all of the lines, then closing them one by one to determine the one on which the fault was present. Within about 10 minutes all service had been restored, except the circuit going out the Wilmington road and serving Walmo and vicinity.

A patrol was immediately started along this circuit, and the difficulty finally discovered in a large tree near Tindal's residence at Walmo, where two of the circuit wires were in contact with each other. The trouble was quickly repaired and service was restored at 6:10 p. m.

Jury Wants Cost Of Bridge Repairs

No Definite Recommendation Made With Regard To Repairing Ellwood Bridge

No definite recommendation regarding repairs to the Ellwood Park bridge at Ellwood City was made by the grand jury which inspected the bridge yesterday. The reason given was that the jury did not have a definite estimate of the cost of making such repairs. It was suggested that the county commissioners secure an estimate, and that it be presented to the court for approval.

The bridge was taken over by Ellwood City from the Connequessing Bridge Company some time ago. It was understood at the time that the county would go along in making needed repairs, but the jury did not feel like giving a blanket recommendation to go ahead, without some idea of the cost. The commissioners will have an engineer go over the bridge and make the desired estimate.

The jury also recommended that some future grand jury go over the proposition of securing better quarters for a detention home. It was found that the present home is well kept, but that it is old and poorly arranged for looking after juveniles. After visiting and inspecting the county home, the jury commended the superintendent and matron for the clean and orderly manner in which it is kept, and the apparent contentment of the inmates. Sheriff and Mrs. M. M. Ingham were commended for the excellent condition in which the jury found the county jail.

At The Airport

Great improvement in the earth runways at the field was made by the removal of the many humps of earth that bordered the ends of the hard surfaced runways, this week.

Dick Ferry of East Greenbush Airport flew into town yesterday in a new Porterfield-Turner "90" de-luxe plane. Mr. Ferry landed at the local airport and visited here during the day on business.

An aggregation of private pilots will be brought here by Dick Ferry on Sunday, September 24, for participation in the New Castle "Air Progress Week's" Dawn Patrol. This group of pilots will land their planes here and be guests at a scheduled aviation breakfast.

A full week of activities is scheduled at the port during the week of September 17 to 24. Both W. H. Ice and Findley C. Wilson are working out plans for a great celebration. Full program will be announced soon.

Large hangar now under construction by Findley Wilson is rapidly nearing completion. The workmen are now busy building the long sliding doors to keep old man weather out of the building and away from the airplanes.

Greater New Castle Association is co-operating with the local pilots in promoting a celebration for Air Progress Week. Executive Vice President Arthur H. Andrews is lending his full support to making the week a success locally.

After Setting Up Big Budget

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 15.—The emergency session of Canada's Parliament which approved a one hundred million-dollar war appropriation bill and a supplementary budget carrying new taxes to meet war expenditures, has finished its business.

The session, which began September 7, and was the shortest in Canadian history except for that of the War Parliament in 1914, brought Canada's declaration of war against Germany, saw creation of a new ministry of munitions and supply, establishment of a patriotic fund and an act dealing with war charities.

Reconvene In January

Prime Minister MacKenzie King told the House of Commons that it would meet again in January and that there will be no election before then. He said a national government was not contemplated at present, with his government taking the responsibility of war administration "fearlessly and courageously."

The House overwhelmingly approved the war budget, supplementary to the regular budget of last spring, after defeating, 190 to 8, a social credit amendment which would have established a committee to study ways and means of "conscripting finance."

After passing the main motion the House went into committee to study each section of the new taxation measure.

Surtax Passed

A war surtax of 20 percent is imposed on all income tax payments and is effective on 1939 incomes. The corporation tax is increased by three percent and an excess profits tax, ranging from 10 to 60 percent on the returns of capital investment, is applied to every place of business.

The tax on spirituous liquors is increased by $3 per gallon and the tax on beer goes up approximately nine cents per gallon. The tax on wines and champagnes is increased 100 percent—from 7½ to 15 cents per gallon and 75 cents to $1.50 per gallon respectively.

Cigarettes in future will bear a tax of $5 per thousand, an increase of $1 per thousand. The tax on manufactured tobacco is increased from 20 cents to 25 cents per pound.

Tea, Coffee Taxed

To housewives the important taxation changes are application of the eight percent sales tax on gas and electricity used in dwellings and a tax on tea and coffee.

Canned fish and meats, bacon and ham and all meats salted or smoked also are subject to the eight percent sales tax.

The tax on tea is raised from four cents per pound to a minimum of nine on low grades and as high as 14 cents on the better grades. The tax on coffee is 10 cents per pound.

STATE MAY ASSIST ANTHRACITE MINES
By TOM R. BRISLIN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—Pennsylvania's legislature may be asked to establish "research laboratories" as a means of "affording relief to the depressed anthracite miners," it was learned here.
The plan, similar to one proposed in congress last March by Rep. Ivor
D. Fenton, R., Penna., would provide for the "development of new uses for utilization of the state's valuable anthracite deposits."
Proponents of the plan have been "feeling out" hard-coal interests in the state within recent weeks and reported better than a "luke-warm" response to the plan.

Pittsburgh Area Once Covered By Prehistoric Pond

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—A prehistoric pond, formed by the mingling of the waters of the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers, once covered part of what is now the East End of Pittsburgh.

This conclusion is reached in a "Guidebook to the Geology About Pittsburgh" which Henry Leighton, professor and head of the department of geology at the University of Pittsburgh, published recently.

Professor Leighton says that the Monongahela river, in prehistoric times, flowed across Wilkensburg and through East Liberty. The Allegheny river overflowed around Highland Park and apparently mingled with the Monongahela. Fine clay still found in the area indicates that a great pond existed.

"A mile-wide, flat valley extends from the main part of Oakland past the University of Pittsburgh to East Liberty through Homewood, Wilkensburg, Edgewood, Swissvale and upper Rankin," Professor Leighton writes.

Candidates Named In Mercer County

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 15.—In one of the most hotly contested primary elections ever held in Mercer county, Republicans nominated George Piddington, Sharon, treasurer; Alex Elliott, Hickory township, sheriff, and Stephen Lukas, Springfield township, recorder.

Nominees for other county offices were: E. C. Moon, Mercer, district attorney; Albert E. Moses, Mercer, and James L. Bailey, Sharon, county commissioner; Fred L. Hutchison, Wheatland, clerk of courts; Harry W. Krems, Greenville, prothonotary; J. A. Biggins, Sharpville, coroner.

Radio parts are cheaper in the United States than anywhere else in the world.

Better Business May Decrease Fund Demands

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Secretary of the treasury Morgenthau announces that the treasury is making a resurvey of federal revenue and expenditure prospects in view of increased business and higher farm commodity prices resulting from the European war.

Morgenthau said that if farm commodity prices reach parity that the government would be saved $220,000,000 in funds voted by congress and, in addition, a saving of between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 might result from the president's recent action in removing sugar quotas.

In view of the better prospects, Morgenthau said there is a possibility that the commodity credit corporation will not need the $119,000,000 provided by congress to repair its capital.

Noted Hitch-Hiker Loses Out In Run For County Auditor

James A. McGowan, noted Prospector, Pa., hitch-hiker, likes to hang up records. He was defeated for a place on the Democratic ticket for auditor in Butler county, but he was the first to file his expense account following the election.

McGowan, who hitch-hiked to New Castle to attend old timers' meeting and also the county fair, felt sure that he was going to get on the Democratic ticket for auditor, but it seems the voters passed him by, just as some of the cars do when he is hitch-hiking.

McGowan, who has held offices of various kinds for many years, took his defeat philosophically. "I guess it's just a case of the old man going to the well too often," he said. "I have been running for office ever since 1880."

NEW CASTLE AND BUTLER OPEN SEASON TONIGHT

Schoolboy Elevens Set For Night Game At Taggart Stadium

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Set For 1939 Start; Fans Eagerly Await Kickoff At 8 O'Clock; New Castle Has Good Prospects Again This Year; Butler Will Bring Fast And Heavy Team Here Tonight; Contest Is First Class AA Conference Game For Locals.

Taggart Stadium will be the mecca tonight for the lovers of the popular fall pastime of football, with Butler High School football team here to oppose the 1939 edition of the New Castle High "Red Hurricane" eleven. The lights will go on at 7 o'clock and by starting time, at 8 o'clock, the stands should be well filled. The start of a new grid year finds New Castle with a fairly well balanced team.

Butler is a Class AA conference team and naturally New Castle High is anxious to win. Butler annually gives New Castle a hard tussle, and hopes to be able to hold the big New Castle team tonight. In the first game of the year at Butler, on Monday night, Butler hammered a Zelenople High team for a 12 to 0 victory.

With the advantage of having played one regulation game, the Heinzer coached eleven will be one up on the local lads who have yet to be tested under fire.

Starting Lineup Is Set
Having given the New Castle team its final coat of polish last night, under the candleabra at Taggart Stadium, Head Coach Phil H. Bridgman is satisfied that he has chosen the eleven best for his starting lineup. The boys have all worked hard for the vacant places left by "Socks" Rousseau, Pelusak, Molsko and Big Jim Rucker.

Starting their first varsity game tonight will be—Pete Zarilla at right end, Tom Gilboy at left guard, and Dynamite Castrucci at right tackle. The remainder of the line men played on the first string last year. The only new comer in the backfield will be Sam Ciazza, former Ben Franklin High flash.

Roberts And Lauro
The two backfield men who seem destined to share the burden of making touchdowns are Lindy "Galento" Lauro the big fullback, and Larry "Streak" Roberts, the colored speed-merchant, at left half. Whether or not New Castle is in the running this year depends a lot on Joe Gender, the lad who will take care of the quarter-backing and blocking.

Ciazza is a fast man and will do a lot of ball totting too.
Butler Team Fast
Coach Regis Heinzer will bring a fairly heavy and fast team here tonight. In the Butler backfield will be found a set of veterans led by Rocco Iannotti at fullback, this lad touching the scales at 158 pounds. The signal barking will be done by Sam Smith colored boy who tips the beam at 165 pounds. The half-back spots will be taken care of by Louis Sandloop, 165 pounds and Joe DeRose, 157.

The Butler line will not have a man on it that started the game here last year, having lost Shanor, Hutchinson, Tack, Smith, Beck and

Fans Are Anxious
The fans both male and female are anxious for the first kickoff of the year. There is no game of a crowd quicker than football. New Castle in other years has had its share of big crowds. The townspeople have supported the team in fine style.

When New Castle plays out of town they always have a big following. New Castle is looking ahead this year to a fine season. The highlight of course will be the Saturday afternoon game on October 14 that brings Johnstown High here for an important Class AA battle. Washington will also play a Class AA league game here this year.

SHENANGO OPENING GRID SEASON TODAY

Shenango Township high is opening the grid season this afternoon at Shenango field, battling Evans City high.

What Gate To Enter Tonight

A good many football fans do not know which gate they should enter to reach certain seats at Taggart Stadium and so here is the setup:

Holders of season tickets and reserved seats in the concrete stands enter on Stadium at the main entrance on DuShane street.

All high school students enter game at gate just north of the concrete stands.

All west side bleacher and south side bleacher fans enter the game at the Cunningham avenue gate.

South side bleacher fans may also enter the game at the gate just south of the concrete stands.

All complimentary tickets must be presented at the south gate.

Children will enter game at the Division street gate.

Sports World Ramblings

King Football... Like a tidal wave, football is here. The whistle blows, the crowd roars and the raw blue September sky. The oval wobbles and descends into the extended arms of the safety man. The interference converges and the march towards the goal line is underway. The opponents rush like a herd of wild cattle. The ball carrier flashes along the chalk lines, shedding tacklers, straight-arming, zig-zagging on his way to pay dirt. It's fall again and the grandest autumn game is here. It's football time.

With it comes a fresh crop of athletes, big, healthy, rawboned, ambitious and determined to bring added glory to their alma mater during the next 10 or 11 weeks. As the gridiron season goes on, the stands will be filled with spectators cheering the lads who produce nerve tingling thrills. Win, lose or draw, the gallery will be there to see the players carry on. It's first and ten, the game is on.

Shenango Township's Wildcats are endeavoring to claw all over the Evans City high eleven this afternoon at Shenango field. New Castle high's Red Hurricane makes its public appearance against Butler at 3 tonight. Ellwood City faces Bessemer on Saturday at Ellwood City, completing a perfect local football opening. To King Football, your Rambling Reporter says, "Glad to see you back." To local teams, "Lots of luck."

A wee bit of this and that: From here, Lou Nova shapes up as an easy winner over Tony Galento. The bout shouldn't last more than five or six heats, depending on how long Galento's seams hold up. Photographers get a break when Louis-Pastor fight. A 60,000-watt lighting system above the ring makes it unnecessary to use flash bulbs for pictures.

Nova Favored Over Galento In Battle Tonight

Young Californian Expects To Have Easy Time With Bar-Keeper

MAY BE LAST BOUT FOR TONY

By LAWTON CARVER
International Service Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—In the setting where stark, stirring pugilistic drama was enacted 13 years ago, Tony Galento, barrel-bodied New Jersey bar-keep, and Lou Nova, strapping young Californian, will tangle tonight in the first act of a three-act serio-comic extravaganza. The second act to be presented at Detroit on Wednesday night of next week, when Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis encounters Bob Pastor. The third act, or grand finale, will be a clash next June at New York between the survivors, probably Louis against Nova.

Thus by devious route on far-flung fronts does Promoter Mike Jacobs move—his wonders, if any, to perform. Through it all Galento is getting a new lease on his pugilistic life, short as it seems likely to be as of now, and Nova is given an opportunity to go plodding onward toward the promised land much in the fashion of a latter day Gene Tunney. He, too, was a man of destiny, embellishment Nova has embraced.

Nova Favorite

So it is fitting and quite in keeping with the theme of this opera of basso profundo clouts on the snout that Nova should, in this most important fight of his career, take the stake at municipal stadium where in 1926, or 13 years ago, Tunney sloshed around in rain that piled up nearly ankle deep in the ring, and beat Dempsey for the heavyweight championship. Nova can't accomplish quite that much here, but he can earn the championship engagement and is so utterly confident about it all that everything beyond the opening gong seems to be empty formalities. He doesn't see how he can possibly miss such a lumbering target as Galento and neither does anybody else—except the latter.

Galento, too, has a right to his opinion until such time as—according to the betting odds—he is knocked loose from it and comes to rest on the doctor's table for a job of hem-stitching in his easily gashed features, and so it may be reported that he quite confidently expects to lay a left hook on Nova's chops with sufficient authority to terminate the festivities early.

The odds range from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 that Galento is wrong, and that the fight will end long before the scheduled 15 rounds have elapsed.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

During the past few days it has come to the attention of the Jefferson A. C. that some persons have given out the impression that they are connected with the organization's boxing endeavors. The only persons in charge of the Jefferson A. C. boxing shows are Tommy Leach and Ed Fritz. They are in sole charge.

Odds range from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 against Tony Galento in tonight's encounter with Lou Nova at Philadelphia. . . . Although New York Yanks are skidding in American League they have nothing to worry about in pennant grab. . . . Joe Hunt will be semi-final foe of Bobby Riggs in national tennis championship. . . . All racing in Philadelphia is expected to be a success. . . . Ray Billows, Marvin Ward, Art Doering and Don Schumacher will battle in the semi-finals of national amateur golf tournament. . . . W. L. Brann's Chalcedon shapes up as heavy favorite in Saturday's $15,000 Hawthorne gold cup race. . . . Elizabeth Hicks won women's western golf derby with record 72-hole total of 307.

Lafayette's 1939 football edition is beginning to take form at Camp Wyomissing, where the Maroon squad of 38 has been training for nearly two weeks, and present indications are that Head Coach Hooks Mylin will have the speediest backfield in his three years as Maroon mentor. At least ten ball carriers are in the running for varsity berths, with several sophomores certain to break into the lineup before the season gets under full way. Bob Nelson, a hard-charging 180-pound back from Englewood, N. J., appears to have first call on the fullback berth as he has impressed the coaches with his ball carrying and also defensive ability. He has been working in the varsity backfield with Harold Bellis and Sammy Moyer, of Phillipsburg, and James Bryant, of Easton, all veterans.

Third U. P. Wins League Title By Topping St. Vitus

The Third U. P. church softball team is the 1939 champions of the New Castle church league. Last night the East Siders won their title by taking over the fast St. Vitus church team at Lehigh field, 9 to 4, in the third and deciding game of the three-game series.

It was a hard-fought battle all the way. The winning pitcher was Jenkins, the losing hurler being Ross. Heavy hitters in the game were Mann, A. McNickle and Flais for the Third U. P., and Ross, Morgan and Tusciano for the losers. Russ McNickle started for the Third U. P., but gave way to Jenkins who gets credit for the win.

This is the first time in several years that the championship of the church softball league has left Croton.

Pennsylvania Commission Announces Plan For Small Breeding Plots

WILL BE CLOSED TO ALL HUNTING

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—Pennsylvania's Game Commission is going ahead with plans to establish hundreds of six-acre refuge projects wherein wildlife may breed in safety—"out of bounds" to more than 700,000 hunters, Col. Nicholas Biddle, commission president, announced recently.

The proposed statewide program will be carried out in conjunction with local sportsmen's associations in cooperation with landowners.

Colonel Biddle, well known sportsman, pointed out that while there is no limit as to how large a refuge may be, the minimum project acreage—provided there are no occupied buildings with safety zones—is six acres.

"The combined total acreage set apart as special wildlife refuges and safety zones," he declared, "cannot legally exceed one-third of the total area of any project." Safety zones, he added, may be posted "within 150 yards of any occupied building."

In explaining the protection plan, Colonel Biddle said that the sponsoring sportsmen's club working in the public interest which accepts the responsibility to promote, establish and maintain one or more of these projects."

Reds Increase Lead By Taking Two From Giants

Cardinals Win One And Reds Go Half-Game Near-er To National League Flag

YANKS LOSE TO DETROIT TIGERS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Some time ago it appeared as if the Reds would have to back into their pennant while the Yanks were winning theirs like true champions.

Today the picture is reversed. The Reds have settled down like a reformed playboy while the Yanks are skidding like a fat drunk on ice. However, the Yanks are so far in front, and their pursuers so weak, they have nothing to worry about.

McKeech's minute men have won four in a row from Dodgers and Giants while the Yanks have ingloriously blown three straight to the Indians and Tigers.

The Reds gained half a game on the tenacious Cardinals yesterday by taking a pair from the Giants, 8-5 and 9-3, while the Cards were taking a single game from the stingless Bees, 6-3.

The Cubs again tightened their hold on third place by knocking over the futile Phils, 13-1, behind old Charley Root, and 5-2, behind Larry French.

Of the seven games played by the eastern clubs in the west, the Dodgers were the only ones able to win one. They took the nightcap from the Pirates, 8-4, after losing the first one, 4-3.

The Yanks had the misfortune to stack up against Buck Newsom on one of his good days and could do nothing with him, the Tigers winning, 6-1. Buck hung up No. 17 for himself.

Indians Top Sox
The Yanks lost no ground, however, because the Indians took a wild affair from the Red Sox, 6-7.

Although he gave only three hits, Nelson Potter of the Athletics, had to travel ten heats to get a 4-2 verdict over the White Sox.

Dutch Leonard, ace right-hander of the Senators, gave the Browns only six hits and breezed in, 5 to 1.

heats. It was a three heat plan event and with Maher in the sulky took all heats in 2:04. Biery farm of Butler owns the winner. Tony Henley took two heats in the 2:15 class. Cecilia Hanover winning the other. Time 2:06 1-2. Pioneer Hanover captured a pair of heats in the 2:17 pace, three heat plan in 2:06 1-2 and Sir Vi Bart won in straight heats in the 2:24 trot in 2:10 1-2.

A large number of sportsmen from this city will attend the Harrisville field trials Saturday, which are sponsored by the Deer Hunters association of that place. Gene Tunney likes Tony Galento and Tommy Loughrin favors Lou Nova in tonight's bout in Philadelphia. Charles (Chilly) Doyle has been named chief scorer for the World's series.

Semi-Finals In Amateur Tourney

By CHESTER YOULL
International News Service Sports Writer

GLENVIEW, Ill., Sept. 15.—The struggle of the semi-finalists in the national amateur golf championship got under way this morning with another day of blazing heat at North Shore, making it tough going over the 36-hole route.

Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., former New York state amateur champion and Walker cup player, teed off with Don Schumacher of Dallas, the Texas champion, in one of the two matches while in the other 26-year-old Marvin Ward, Spokane, Wash., star and also a Walker cup team member, opposed Art Doering, Chicago district titleholder.

They play 18 holes this morning and 18 this afternoon.

All-Stars For Game Sunday

Managers Danny DeGenova and George "Boss" Zidow of the City Baseball league All-Stars will have the following galaxy of stars to choose from in making out their starting lineup Sunday at Bessemer in the benefit game at 3 o'clock for Dick Nord.

Paul Coulter, Wrona, Bill Sovesky, Mike Markey, James Markey, Peck Houston, Paul Mosley, George Adams, Tommy Strausbaugh, Huck Davies, Carl Genneck, Monk Rainey, Thomas Budal, Anderson, Morrison, Sargent, Joe Wilk, Powell, Grieves, Ken Koszela, Guinough.

Any of the above who cannot be at Bessemer Sunday are asked to call Danny DeGenova at 852 or Zidow at 9476.

Indy Batters K. C. Nine, 13-1

Showering Ruppert stadium with base hits, Indianapolis won its third game of the Shaugnessy playoffs Thursday night, a 13-1 triumph over the hard hitting Kansas City Blues.

The Junior Yanks will have to do some tall playing to cop the A. A. title. In the other game, Minneapolis returned to its old form, walloping Louisville, 16-1. The Colonels hold a 2-1 edge in the series.

Market Makes Effort To Shake Off Profit-Taking Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The stock market continued comparatively dull today, with early efforts to revive the boom halted by renewed profit-taking.

Initial gains of a point or more were wiped out in most cases, and the majority of stocks drifted fractionally under last night's closing levels.

Again "war shares" were chief targets for profit takers, with some steels, chemicals and aviation substitutes losing a point for equal opening gains. Included were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Douglas Aircraft, DuPont and Union Carbide.

Coppers were down fractions, except for a point runup in American Smelting. Chrysler's early gain of a point was converted into a fractional loss. Utilities, rails and mail orders ruled a shade lower. Standard Oil of N. J., and Texas Corp. each gave up a point.

FROM ME TO YOU
By MESEALL

Tonight the local football team of the local high school will make its first public appearance when the whistle blows for the kickoff at eight o'clock. The team according to reports is in fair shape this year and expect to go places. But a football game doesn't make the entire show . . . without the band the game would be flat . . . and if you don't believe it, attend a game without a band. Our high school band is a colorful outfit and if I'm not mistaken they have a very pleasing surprise in store for you tonight . . . and it didn't cost the school board one red cent. The money was presented by an out of school organization . . . the Music Council headed by Alex Samuels and composed of men about town who are interested in the betterment of music in the schools. It was this outfit that bought the uniforms for the High School Band and the Croton Band . . . these uniforms were not paid for by taxation money as some people are lead to believe but by money raised by this organization . . . So attend the game and see your football team and the band.

In case you don't know the school board by sight . . . the majority of them will be in the right hand box at the top of the stadium.

You know folks as one goes over the world there are funny things that come to consideration. One thing that always rather amused us is the fact that so many women think that the world can't get along without their meddling. But maybe we are wrong . . . on saying that a great many women think this . . . the number is very small when you consider how many women there are in the world. We have several right here in New Castle who would be a lot better off if they would stay at home and mind their own knitting instead of running around and making themselves the laughing stock of the town. These women get up in the morning and leave their homes . . . their families . . . they are gone all day . . . they rush home, open a can or two and they call that a meal. It's little wonder that some husbands get fed up and decide its nicer elsewhere.

Things according to folks in the know are on the up and up here in New Castle . . . keep talking good things about the town and it won't be long until they will be in reality.

Ellwood High Opens Season On Saturday With Bessemer High

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Ellwood City high school football fans will get their first idea of the caliber of the squad that is representing the school in this year's gridiron battles when the premiere of the season takes place on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Lincoln field.

Bessemer has replaced Westleyville, of the Erie district, as the first opponent and is expected to provide plenty of opposition for the opener. Last fall, Bessemer defeated Ellwood in the last game of the season after both teams had had highly successful seasons and seven of the Bessemer varsity players that had a part in that victory will be on hand to try for their second straight victory at the expense of the Wolverines.

The nucleus of the Ellwood team is being developed about three of last year's varsity players and Tommy Murphy, one of last year's excellent substitute backs. Some of the new lads who will make their debut on Saturday have been showing up well in practice, and they will undoubtedly provide a lot of thrills for the spectators as well as being on their toes, lest their coveted assignments be transferred.

Line Is Small

Again the Blue and White will be handicapped by a small line which will average about 150 pounds. To overcome this handicap Coaches Croft and Gills have attempted to specialize in speed and deception as the mainstays of the season's attack, but so far the head mentor thinks his efforts have been wasted.

The backfield, to average 175 pounds, looks like a redeeming feature and if they can acquire speed and timing, they will provide plenty of worry for their opponents this year. Murphy has been changed from the fullback to quarterback position and the half back assignments go to Charles Greco and Walter Biego. Biego was out of school for a period and his return this year has bolstered the squad greatly. Johnny Mazzant, a whirlwind junior high player, has completely, after a year's rest, recovered from a leg injury and is ready to show his wares and many eyes will be focused on his action tomorrow.

Fans will notice that the time of the game has been advanced until 2:30 p. m. instead of 3:15, as was the custom in past years.

The tariff for tickets remains the same as last year at 25 cents for students; 35 cents for adults; 50 cents for reserved seats; season student tickets, $1; $1.50 general admission and $2.50 for reserved seats.

An exceptionally large crowd of supporters of both teams are expected to be on hand for the contest and preceding the game the high school band will perform on the field. This year's cheerleaders have been named as follows: Bud Young, Betty Lee Kimes, Jack Dunn, Jean Wardman, Betty Ann Meniece and Bob Bracken.

Officials will be Sam Boyer, Dr. Cutler and Scanlon.

The lineup follows:

Bessemer	Pos.	Ellwood
56-Pezullo	..LE....	Powell-32
65-M. McCree	..LT....	Fera-23

ELECTA MEMBERS

GATHER AT PARK

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Electa club members gathered last evening at Ewing Park grove for a lovely tureen dinner after which they assembled at the home of Mrs. George Miller, of Foch street, for an evening of cards.

For winning high scores, the awards went to Mrs. Robert Morris and Mrs. Theresa Tritt and the travel prize to Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. John Humphrey, a special guest, aided her mother in serving a dainty repast. Members were invited to meet again on Thursday, September 28, at the home of Mrs. Tritt, in Park Gate.

MRS. BARRINGER

ENTERTAINS CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Mrs. LeRoy Barringer hospitably entertained members of the D. S. T. club at her home, in Pittsburgh Circle, on Thursday evening.

For diversion, five hundred was played at two tables with the attractive honors going to Mrs. C. E. Anderson, Mrs. F. D. Fredey and Mrs. Harry Ott. In serving a refreshing lunch, the hostess was aided by her daughter, Letha.

Members were invited to meet again on Thursday, September 28, at the Fredey home, in Line Avenue.

SUNSHINE SISTERS

PLAN TUREEN EVENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—An enjoyable meeting of the Sunshine Sisters of the Pythian Sisters lodge was held last evening in the Fourth street V. F. W. hall with a good attendance of members.

At the close of the evening, a committee of four, Gertrude Cragle, Dorothy Fetterman, Irene Welsh and Betty Jane Wilson, served a refreshing repast. On Thursday evening, September 28, the group will hold a tureen dinner at the same place.

Chamber Of Commerce Industrial Banquet Is Notable Success

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—"Every man, every nation must answer to their own soul for their condition, for no man or no community is one bit bigger than his philosophy of fine achievements. It isn't the size that makes it great, it is the great magnitude of content, your bring to it. Wisdom consists in knowing what to do and virtue consists in doing it. Put your best into your community and you'll get the best returns," was the point most highly stressed in a splendid address delivered before the Chamber of Commerce and allied civic organizations gathered last evening at the Ellwood Country club for their fourth annual tribute to industry, by Dr. Samuel W. Graf, of White Plains, N. Y.

There are no limits to the possibilities here, he said, and urged "Go on, do not lose in tone, morale, make your city so vital that rising generations will be better, that is the only way that your work will be worthwhile."

Three Areas

In every community there are three areas, first, job; second, realm of association, and third, schools and churches, and each is of equal importance to the other. The great minute in a man's life is when he realizes that he not only inherits background, but becomes background.

China rose for 5000 years leading in every field so that the world sit at her feet, then stopped, because she lost the philosophy of achievement.

"If you have the philosophy to achieve outstanding accomplishments you will need the following seven points, namely: Courage to pioneer; will to investigate; capacity for new truths; tolerance of the radical and strange; a sense of responsibility that will not let you shoot crooked; and a sacrificial spirit to stay with it," he concluded.

At the close of Dr. Graf's outstanding address, intermingled with humor, and delivered in an effective manner, the large audience of more than 250 local business, industry and social leaders as well as many notable visiting industrial leaders in one accord rose to their feet in a thunderous surge of applause.

Mackasek Toastmaster

Rev. Fr. R. D. Wilkey of the St. Agatha church, offered the invocation and Edward Mackasek filled the toastmaster's role to the "nth degree, keeping the lengthy program moving smoothly with his subtle wit and delightful personality.

Three delightful selections were given by the Dixie Echoes as an added program feature. Robert Taylor was the song leader. Dinner music was provided by Steinberger's orchestra.

Golf was enjoyed by many in the afternoon under the direction of Bob Thompson and he presented prizes for various achievement in a clever, amusing manner that delighted the "banqueteers." Those receiving the awards were: Ray Johnston, W. D. Porter, Mr. Sunderbrink, Ray Aylesworth, F. E. Moore, Nelson Runyan, H. A. Byrum, Dr. H. S. Gold, Dave Jones, Mr. Wice, Charles Smith, Lowell Monroe and Mr. May.

Fried chicken was the main course of the dinner served under capable club supervision. The long tables decorated with bowls of colorful fruit, flanked with white tapers and bowls of garden flowers were most attractive and received much appreciative comment. The tables were decorated by the local Garden club.

Over the fireplace was a small replica of a mill fully lighted, with smoke pouring from the stacks and an American flag flying in the breeze. It was a very unusual and striking display and most appropriate. It was arranged by Frank Patton of this city, and received much praise.

A lovely memory book was presented to R. J. Schill by W. F. Kegel from the Chamber of Commerce, with each of the guests writing their name in the book. Lauded by Mr. Schill for his most successful plea to the grand jury for the improvement of the Ewing Park bridge, city solicitor, J. W. Humphrey, was introduced and received a sincere ovation.

It is hardly necessary to mention the self-evident success of this affair other than it forms a target that banquets will have difficulty in shattering. Once again, the Chamber of Commerce displayed their unmistakable ability.

Lilyville Church Plans To Observe 100th Anniversary

Dedicatory Services To Begin Next Wednesday With Former Pastors As Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Beginning Wednesday evening, September 20, special services and a dedicatory program will be held each evening throughout the remainder of the week in celebration of the notable occasion of the 100th anniversary of the Lilyville Church of God.

Former pastors will take part in the various services arranged by the pastor, Rev. L. A. Lightfritz.

A Sunday school addition as large as the auditorium has been completed in preparation for the event as well as other modern conveniences added including a basement, heating system and electricity.

MRS. JOHN KEUL

HOSTESS TO GROUP

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Mrs. John Keul opened her home, in Frisco, in a pleasing manner on Thursday to members of the Women's Missionary society of the Providence Baptist church who gathered for the September meeting.

Quilting was the day's pastime with the hostess being aided in serving a tempting luncheon at noon by her daughter, Sarah. Fifteen members participated.

The president, Mrs. G. N. Hazen conducted the meeting with plans being furthered for a bazaar to be held in early October. Another meeting will be held on Thursday, October 12, with the place to be decided.

Louise Catarcio Becomes Bride Of James Loccisano

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—A pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the Blessed Virgin Mary church when Miss Stella Virginia Catarcio, daughter of Mrs. Louise Catarcio, of Glen avenue, was united in marriage to James Rudolph Loccisano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Loccisano, of Fountain avenue.

Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano officiated in the presence of many relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride was gown in traditional white fashioned with a slight train and long veil and she carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Rose Mulro, Beaver Falls, was the maid of honor and wore pink taffeta and carried tea roses. Misses Emma Loccisano, Frances Adams and Sylvia Catarcio were the bridesmaids and they wore lovely gowns of blue taffeta and carried tea roses.

Sylvester Frank served as best man and ushers were Dick Loccisano, Sammy Cerilli and Victor Nocera.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was held for the bridal party and guests at the Loccisano home and in the evening a reception for a large number of relatives and friends took place in the Hungarian hall.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Loccisano are graduates of the local high school with the class of '33 and the bridegroom is associated with his father in the grocery business.

Following a trip to the New York Fair, they will reside in Line Avenue.

Braeden Circle Has Four Guests

Wurtemburg U. P. Society Entertained Thursday By Mrs. Donald Hepler

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Thirteen members and four guests, Mrs. Myrtle Kennedy, Mrs. Merle Badger, Miss Betty Wimer and Miss Elizabeth Caughey, of the Mary Braeden Circle of the Wurtemburg U. P. church, were pleasantly entertained for their September meeting on Thursday evening by Mrs. Donald Hepler of Wurtemburg.

Miss Jean Wimer led the devotional period, and interesting chapters of the home study book, "City Shadows," were given by Miss Marjorie Taylor and Mrs. Clifford Gibbons.

Plans were completed for the fall convention of Beaver Valley Presbyterial, to be held at the Wurtemburg church on Thursday, Sept. 28. Thursday, Sept. 21, will be devoted to a final cleaning of the church. After partaking of a refreshing luncheon served by the hostess, members departed, to meet again on Tuesday, Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Clifford Gibbons of Wurtemburg. Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mrs. Earl Badger will give the study book reviews.

Shower Honors John Galvins

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—Honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Galvin, of Orchard avenue, a most enjoyable "surprise" shower was held last evening at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scheide-mantle, of Hazel avenue.

The Galvins were married on Saturday, September 9, at New Castle, the bride being Miss Madeline Scheide-mantle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scheide-mantle of Hazel avenue. Mr. Galvin is an employee of the National Tube company.

Some sixty relatives and friends joined the merry event with round and square dancing being the popular diversions of the evening. The hostess was aided in serving an appetizing lunch by Mrs. John Hayden, Miss Olive and Miss Lola Scheide-mantle and Mrs. Charles Young.

The couple was presented with many lovely gifts for use in their newly furnished home, in Orchard avenue.

MRS. MORRISON

WELCOMES CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 15.—D. C. club members were welcomed for their bi-weekly meeting on Thursday evening by Mrs. James Morrison at her home, in Line Avenue.

Mrs. James Cogley, Mrs. Charles McElwain and Mrs. Howard Fleeger were given nice prizes for winning high scores in 500, the evening's diversion. Mrs. Fleeger aided the hostess in serving a delicious lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Friday, September 29, at the home of Mrs. Henry Stoner, of Camp Con-E-Que.

United States Reserves All Rights As Neutral

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The United States on Thursday notified European belligerents that it reserves all rights as a neutral nation under international law in the European conflict.
The statement of policy was made by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in view of interference with American shipping.
Hull declared that the United States "will adopt such measures as may seem most practical and prudent when those rights are violated by any of the belligerents."
At the same time, Hull took occasion to warn American nationals and American shipping against dangers of travel in European war zones.
He asserted that, while "the United States has not abandoned any of its rights as a neutral under international law," it has for the time being prescribed certain restrictions for its citizens to prevent possible violation of American neutrality.

These restrictions, he said, were those set down in President Roosevelt's proclamation of neutrality last week.
Hull declared that, nevertheless, the United States has not accepted any modification of the principles of international law.
Any such modification, he insisted must await action by congress.
In a statement, Hull said: "The principles of international law as regards neutrals and belligerents have been evolved through the centuries."
"While belligerents have frequently departed from these principles on one pretext or another, and have endeavored to justify their action on various grounds, the principles still subsist."
"This government, adhering as it does to these principles, reserves all rights of the United States and its nationals under international law and will adopt such measures as may seem most practical and prudent when those rights are violated by any of the belligerents."
